Justice Fitzpatrick Says McKinley Got More Than 50,000

MAJORITY IN STATE OF OHIO.

Peculiar Case on Trial in a Wheeling Justice Court Yesterday Afternoon—Two Debtors Carry Their Troubles Into Court, with the Result that the Man Who Lost was Unable to Obtain Redress. Details of the Transaction.

Justice Fitzpatrick has said it; McKinley got over 50,000 plurality in Ohio at the late election.

When an Intelligencer man visited the branch office of Justice presided over by Mr. Fitzpatrick, yesterday afternoon, a case full of novel points was being argued.

It was about an election bet.

A certain hotel man, whose place of business isn't on Market street, and an ex-hotel proprietor, whose place is not located on Water street, were foolish enough to make a wager a few days before that fateful third of November. The wager was that McKinley would carry Ohio by 50,000 plurality. After the election, the stake holder decided that the Republican had won the bet, and the money, $250 was paid over. The free silver man raised a kick, and as he isn't built on a small scale, his kick amounted to something.

The result was that the loser brought suit to recover the $10 he had posted, claiming, like all who bet on less than 50,000 plurality for McKinley in Ohio, that the 3,000 votes cast for the one Populist elector were properly to be counted with the Democratic ticket, which would make McKinley's plurality something over 48,000. The secretary of state, however, had decided that McKinley's plurality over Bryan was 50,109.

The facts in the case—or what the attorneys would have the court to believe were the facts—were brought out by Mr. J. D. Ewing, for the free silver man, while ex-City Solicitor Sam Boyce represented the McKinley man.

Mr. Boyce moved, after the other side had presented its case, to dismiss on the grounds that the three months' limitation for recovering money wagers had expired, and further that the secretary of the state of Ohio had already announced McKinley's plurality to be 50,109. The court took this view of the case and the novel and interesting legal proceeding had come to a conclusion.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Charles Fague, of Mannington, is at the Howell.

Mrs. John McCool, of Fairmont, is at the Windsor.

M. A. Zinn, of West Union, was at the Stamm yesterday.

T. E. Joyce, a Grafton man, put up at the McLure yesterday.

Miss Anna West, of South Market street, is on the sick list.

Mayor Gardner, of Sistersville, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

J. S. Engle and wife, of St. Mary's, are stopping at the McLure.

Miss Lizzie Craft, of Triadelphia, is visiting Mrs. Frank Craft, of the Island.

Mrs. Otto Fish and Mrs. Sidbrent, of Grafton, were guests of the Howell yesterday.

L. LaFlam, of Thirty-fifth street, is a "print" who is laid up with a swelling on his hand.

Mr. Charles Miller, who had his leg injured at the Wheeling pottery last Saturday, was able to be out yesterday.

Editor W. S. Wiley, of New Martinsville, and Hon. Rankin Wiley, of Point Pleasant, are registered at the Windsor.

Deputy Sheriff D. B. Patton, P. R. Tharp and J. J. Taylor, of Hitchcock county, who brought three prisoners up to the Moundville "pen" yesterday, were at the Stamm.

Mr. C. P. Hamilton Stricken.

Mr. C. P. Hamilton, architect, was stricken with an attack of apoplexy yesterday morning after 8 o'clock, just as he had entered his office in the Reilly building. Medical aid was summoned, and he was taken to his home in Pleasant Valley, on the 9 o'clock motor.

It is not thought that the attack will prove serious, though Mr. Hamilton is still confined to his bed, and is unable to speak, and the physicians in charge insist that he must be kept quiet for a few days, when it is hoped he will recover.

A. YARLING'S wagon will be in East Wheeling to-day, with fresh lake fish.

You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs, Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as Dr. King's New Discovery. At Logan Drug Company's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

THE NEW WAY.

A GREAT SUCCESS FOR FITTING ALL KINDS OF EYES WITH GLASSES.

Our new scientific method of examining the eyes and fitting glasses without puncturing the eyes and making the patient blind for a week, or having them sit for hours looking at charts and trying to fit themselves until they become so weary they cannot tell what they see. We fit the eye for examination without depending on the patient and know when they are fitted correctly. Consultation and examination free.
